

CALLING ALL WATER WARRIORS.

Do you want to inspire the next generation to care about our environment?

Do you know a group of young people who want to connect with others to make a difference?

Calling all high-school and college students, recent grads and young professionals to kick-start a movement to champion clean water and trash-free rivers at the first ever

WATER WARRIORS SUMMIT

Whether you are teaching aspiring advocates, artists, engineers, influencers, lawyers, politicians, or scientists who care about our planet and our rivers and oceans, bring them to learn from experts, exchange meaningful ideas, and build campaigns to protect our rivers and oceans.

WHEN: Sunday, Oct. 13, 1-4 p.m. and Monday, Oct. 14, 9 a.m.-4 p.m.

WHERE: Georgia Aquarium

COST: $25 per person (scholarships available!)

INCLUDES: Lunch and snacks, access to the aquarium including a behind-the-scenes tour, expert training, activities and films

Learn more at chattahoochee.org/waterwarriors

For questions on presentations, getting involved, financial support, or sponsoring a group, contact:

Juliet Cohen, Executive Director, Chattahoochee Riverkeeper
(404) 352-9828 | jcohen@chattahoochee.org

a project of

Keeping Watch Over Our Waters Since 1994

hosted by

GEORGIA AQUARIUM

with programming support from

CAPTAIN PLANET
FOUNDATION™